"A Perfect Thing."

Merchandise That Will Find You.

The incessant movement and progression of this store would be less sensible to you were it not for the contrast of the good of vesterday with the better of to-day. The best in merchandise always means progress. Our fixed principle of giving you only such goods as have been conscientiously made for their own sakes, made as good as it is known how to make them, emphasizes progress. Those who make the best are the geniuses in the world—they are the inventors and developers of the new, the strivers after something better; they find out the most economical way to make the worthy things for the least money. Originality in the way of betterments or economy never comes from those who seek to compete with the really worthy by some cheapened imitation. The best, then, does not mean the highest priced (in more ways than one) for the genius of its maker will outwit the skimper

Thus it's a simpler matter (than one would first suppose) why we can sell the very highest quality of merchandise as low, and lower than the inferior kinds, and to-morrow will forcefully emphasize this truth.

We guarantee the price of everything we sell to be as low or lower than the same article or pattern can be bought anywhere If in a day, a week or a month later you find the same thing lower elsewhere, make a claim upon us and it will be allowed at once.

The Season's Newest Waists. Exceptional Prices for To-Morrow.

The material of a garment like a shirt waist may be never so good, but if its making lacks that character and individuality which marks style and worthiness, then comfort, satisfaction and service are lost

That's why we may sometimes seem to be over-fastidious with the makers, exacting about perfection, but it gives you invariably the most fashionable and exclusive garments to be had anywhere. The prices for to-morrow are incomparable.

Good News in Housewares.

The little, every-day, practical things of the household run quickly into money, unconsciously almost, because of the necessity of continued replenishing.

Their first little cost often prompts carelessness about their real worth, and partly for this very reason there's no kind of merchandise to-day that opens up a bigger field for the unscrupulous maker. The real economy is in buying what you know is per-fectly reliable from those you are sure sell nothing else. Our prices on the most reliable things are particularly opportune to-morrow.

Our Premium with St. Nicholas Magazine.

A new volume of St. Nicholas Maga-zine begins with the November number, making this a particularly good time to subscribe for the children's benefit. And here's a way to do it and get a great deal more besides:
With each subscription taken for St

Nicholas at the regular price of $3.00 per year we will give one of these two 1. The True Mother Goose (the true text) with notes and pictures by the famous juvenile artist Blanche McManus. Lam-son, Wolffe & Co., Boston. Published price, $2.00.

2. Alice in Wonderland. A Play.
With beautiful colored illustrations and cover designs. Original published price $1.25. Your choice of these two books free to each subscriber for the magazine. The St. Nicholas, it is needless to say, is always worth its price alone. We take subscriptions for all the current Brooklyn Adrertisements.
